First Announcement

The 25th Meeting of the Astronomical Society of India will be hosted by the Department of Astronomy, Osmania University, Hyderabad during February 07-09, 2007. The chairman of the Scientific Organising Committee (SOC) is Dr. K. Subramaniam (IUCAA, Pune) and the Convenor (LOC) is Dr. S. N. Hasan (Osmania University, Hyderabad). The contributed paper will be presented in posters. In addition, invited talks, evening lectures, Ph.D thesis presentations, and popular lectures are expected to be arranged as traditionally done in the past ASI meetings. Travel support will be available to a limited number of participants, with preference to young researchers from universities, and to those who do not have any other source of support. The Local Organising Committee will be sending the circulars with further information and deadlines for registration, arrangements for accommodation, and the scientific programme of the meeting.
